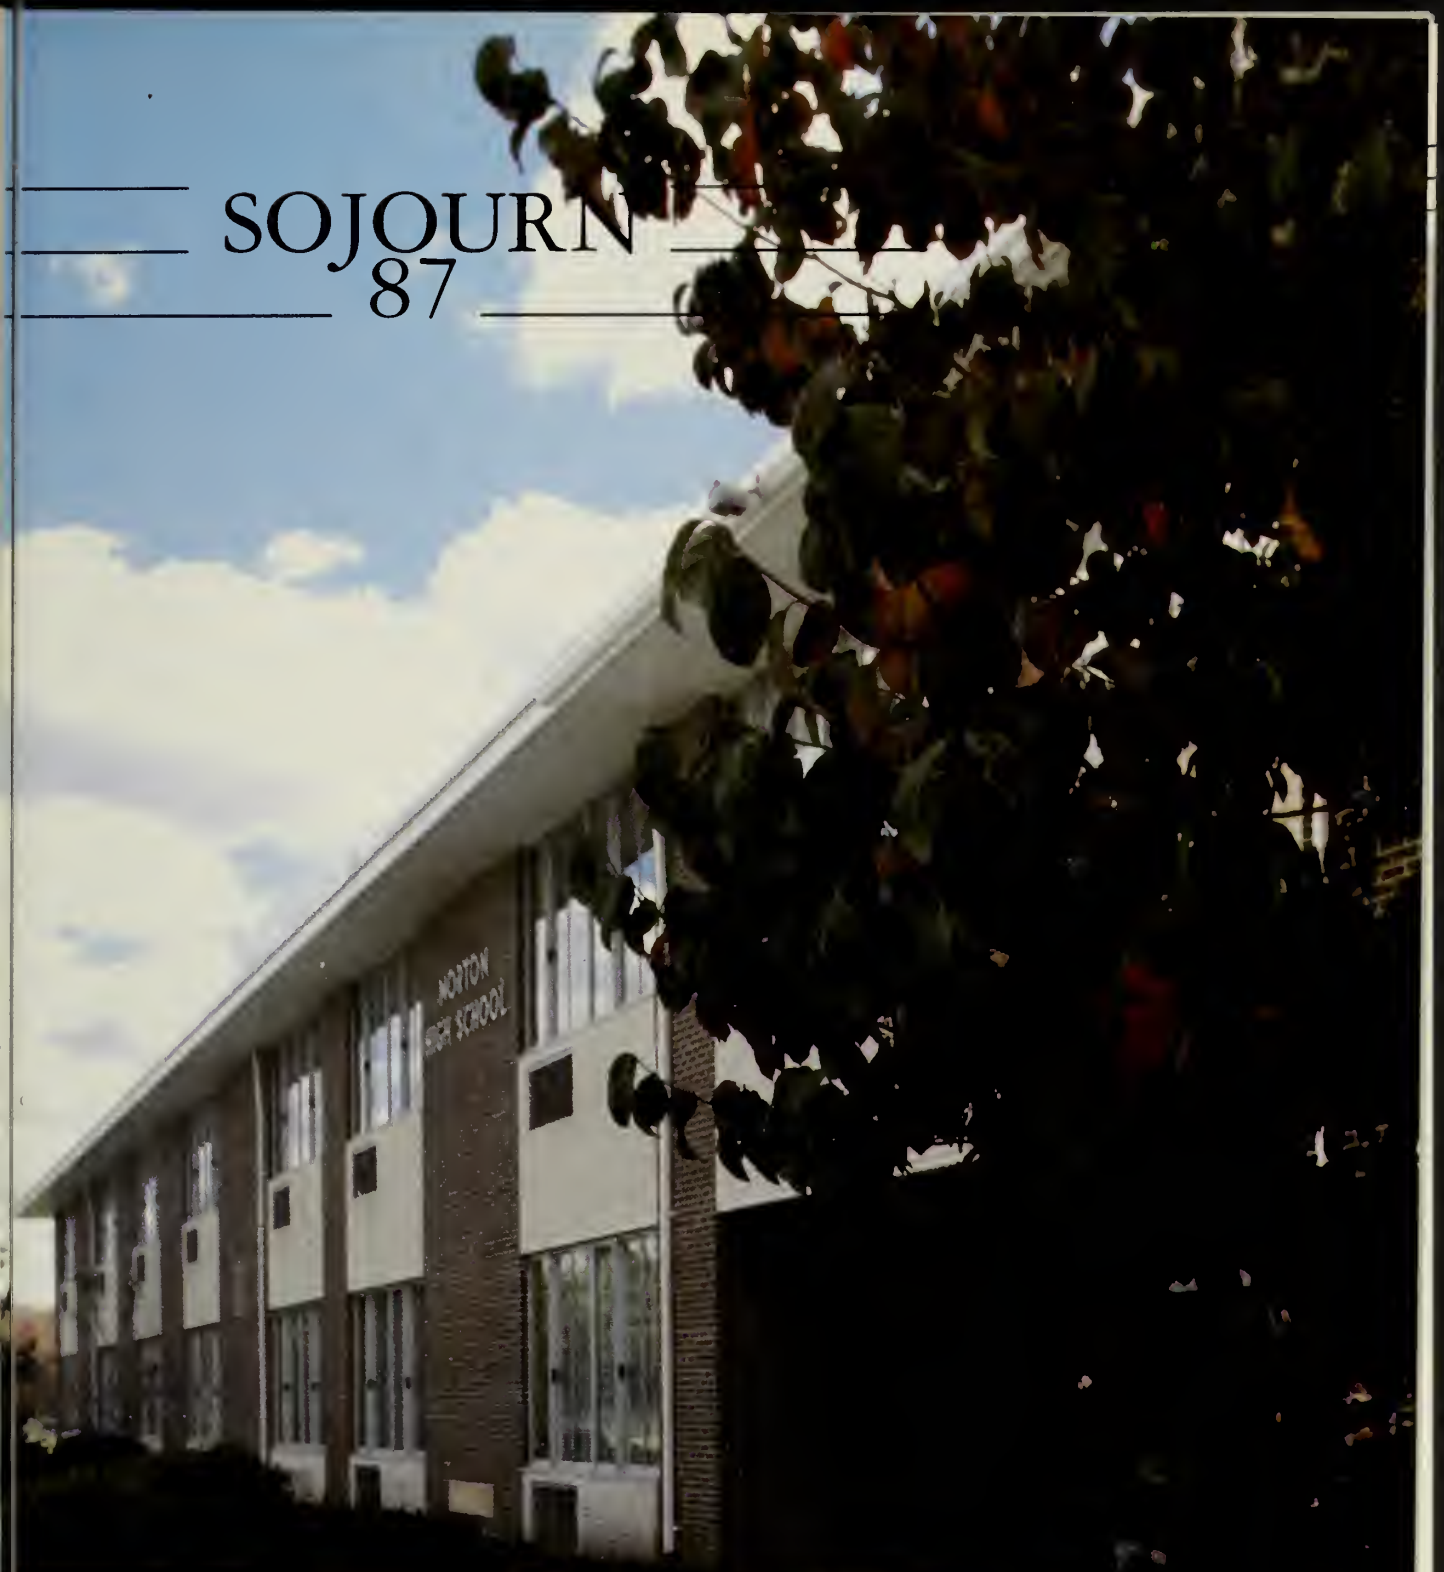
SOJOURN 87



Norton High School

Norton, Massachusetts

DEDICATION

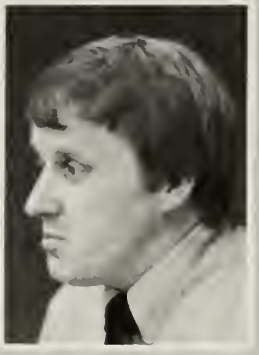
Mrs Debra Sweeney, advisor and friend to the Class of '87, has helped all of us in countless ways. Her enthusiasm and willingness to help will long be remembered by all members of the Class of '87. Whenever an individual needed help, she was always there to lend a helping hand; whenever the class needed help, she was always willing to work endless hours on our behalf. She guided us through dances, fundraisers, the prom, the spaghetti supper, the play, and many other activities; she stood by us when we needed her support to save Purple Key and acted as our advocate in dealing with administrators and other faculty members. In addition to her understanding, work, and dedication, Mrs. Sweeney's golden smile and cheerful outlook are a tremendous asset to Norton High School, and the Class of '87 is proud to dedicate Sojourn 87 to Mrs. Debra Sweeney.

APPRECIATION

"If you don't pay your dues . . ."

In addition to Mrs. Sweeney, our other class advisors have given us an enormous amount of help and support throughout our four years at Norton High School. Mrs. Maher, Mr. Leddy, and Mr. and Mrs. Nuttall have come up with countless ideas for fundraisers, pulled us through a successful prom in our junior year, pushed us through a super spaghetti supper in our senior year, and stood by us proudly in our battle for the reinstatement of Purple Key. These busy people have also withstood the frustrations of unpaid dues, fundraiser flops, and all the little annoying details behind our many plans and events. We, the Class of '87, wish to show them our heartfelt appreciation for all they have done to make our class one of the best to come through Norton High School. Without them, our class would be just another group of students; with our advisors, we have an identity and a group personality that is totally unique.

". . . you don't go to the Prom!"



"I will survive the spaghetti supper . . ."

THE HANDS OF TIME

When we entered high school, a clock was created
It was a symbol of the years awaited.
As the hands of time began to turn
We were only freshmen and had much to learn.

We were all very timid when we walked through the door,
What we saw was exciting and made our hearts soar.
Being aware we had four years to complete
We studied hard and tried our best, for we had goals to meet.

We made it through a successful first year,
We made many more friends who became very dear.
Our first year of high school had come and gone
We knew by the clock it was time to move on.

We had to start all over again
A new year, a new notebook, a new pencil and pen.
But now we were Sophomores, feeling more at ease.
With three years to go, time would tease.

Our Junior year came — upperclassmen at last
We never thought school could be such a blast.
There were more places to go and more things to do
More cars on the road, and the drivers were you.

Wanting to be Seniors, we had nothing to fear
We were so happy at the end of the year.
It took a long time, but our three years had passed
Now it was time to move on to our last.

Then we were Seniors, ahead of them all
Setting good examples, keeping order in the hall.
With many things to do, good grades to maintain,
And applications to fill, it was hard to stay sane.

The hands of time kept ticking away
Getting us closer to our graduation day.
Anxious to graduate, we kept our eyes on the clock
It finally told us it was time to walk.

Now it is time to go our separate ways.
But we will always remember our high school days.
It's a big world out there with much to achieve.
We can do whatever we want if we just believe.

As we graduate on this stage tonight,
There may be anxiety, there may be fright.
There may be great moments, like we've had these past years.
There may be happiness, there may be tears.

We've shared together — both good times and bad
We will never forget the years we have had.

Senior Class Prophecy

The Invitation:
Another reunion . . . great, another chance to look back to younger days. Reunions can be so depressing if one allows them to be. I, however, am rather excited about seeing the graduation class of 1987 ten years after having guided them through their final year as one of their advisors. I hope this affair will be held somewhere besides the school cafeteria; after all, there are just so many events one can hold tastefully in a cafeteria!
The Arrival:
The Boston Marriot, a far cry from a cafeteria indeed! This can't possibly be the right address; not with so many beautiful sports cars in front of such an elegant place . . . and so expensive! Their class fund raisers could never have afforded this! Corvettes, Limousines, Porsches, and unbelievably, a Pink Lamborghini!? Oh wait . . . yes, this must be the place — I see Aaron Coolidge's Datsun near the back of the lot. I suppose I should go in now, if for no other reason than to find out who would own a pink Lamborghini!
The Greetings:
So many familiar faces . . . I am pleased to see such a large turnout after so many years. There's Class President Kim Benson, who organized this reunion. She looks exhausted, probably working too hard in her Retail Management position in New York. She's speaking with her old friend Diane Bartley, whom I hear is living with her own family in the area. She is apparently very happy working with disabled children at Mass General. Another Boston resident is Maureen Malloy, whose article I read in the sports section of the Globe not too long ago. Surprisingly, Maureen is not wearing her usual Celtics T-Shirt. I spoke to Tammie Girelli who is still living in MA with her family. She is a Psychometrist at the same hospital where Diane Smedburg works as a nurse. What a great staff this hospital must have! I ran into Karen O'Connell, whose illustrations have become very popular in the Boston area. She had just returned from a jaunt to Europe, where she bumped into Louie Dion. Lou is stationed in Germany with the Navy, living with his wife and children. Apparently Louie's liberal, Canadian bride has changed his life; she introduced him to new ideas, new politics, and (most important) the members of Rush. I asked Karen about Debbie Brown, who now lives in New Jersey with her family. Deb, so I am told, has a thriving practice in child psychology, both in the office and in her own home. Karen also mentioned Cheryl Carter, from whom she has heard very little since Cheryl moved to England. The last time Karen heard from her, Cheryl had just come back from an assignment in the Middle East for National Geographic. Cheryl had recently won a Pulitzer for her photographs in that magazine, an honor which brought her to New York, where she stayed with Merrideth Chartier. Merrideth has also been doing a bit of traveling — with an off- Broadway production. Her husband was not pleased with her absence. He was forced to care for her two children, her dance studio, and Cheryl, while she was visiting. Another NYC resident is Jamie Prophet, who works as a musician and was recently featured in Guitar magazine's latest issue. Janene Banks is another musician. She took time out from her worldwide tour to be here tonight. Eric Pane took a vacation from his work as an oceanographer to fly in from San Diego with his family. He cannot always be busy when one considers the enviable tan he has been flaunting. Speaking of tans, there's Joey Marino, another Californian. Joey is very proud to have become a computer programmer and to have finally learned how to spell! When he's not working he gets his tan playing baseball with his kids and his little dog. Dina Andrews also lives out West, where she owns a chain of hotels around Las Vegas and Reno. Speaking of hotels, I think I see this hotel's manager entering the room. I hope nothing's wrong . . . hey, that's Lisa Burke! She manages the Marriott? No wonder the class could afford this hotel. She's talking to Melissa George, who is an airline attendant on a private airline owned by John Treeful: "The Party-Line." What an interesting concept: private jets for wealthy people to hold flying parties. John has mastered Spanish and lives in Arizona now — no need for Ultratan in that state!

The Conversations:

I was talking to Alka Popat who is now a very wealthy pediatrician in England and married with 2 children and a huge mansion. She mentioned the latest about her old school buddies. Would you believe that Shannon Tuttle is a millionaire secluded on her own island Paradise? She and her husband travel to keep themselves busy, although I can't understand why anyone would want to leave Paradise. Kelly O'Shea is a sports medicine specialist for the Boston Red Sox. She and her family often travel to her Australian husband's homeland, where they hobnob with the kangaroos. Erin O'Shea is an accountant in Vermont. After Erin passes the CPA test, she and her family are going to Ireland. I guess Ireland and Australia are about as far apart as the twins could get; I'm sure it was an unintentional separation, of course. Everyone knows about Priscilla Mansfield. After she played the starring role opposite Michael J. Fox in his latest movie and went on to win the tournament at Wimbledon last year, she and her family haven't had a minute's rest from Priscilla's fans, who plague them constantly at her Florida home. Kris Rodrigues is another famous member of our class. A millionaire living in Hollywood, she is married and has two children. Her Levi's 501 Blue Jeans commercial was the start of a fantastic career for her. Kris said she heard from Heather McQuade who is living in Massachusetts. She owns a huge house with her husband and children. I wonder who does the housework? Probably someone who looks like Lurch, from Heather's old favorite TV show, The Addams Family. I've just had a chat with Jana Allen at the punch bowl.

Jana, a very successful computer systems analyst, owns a chain of stores specializing in computers. Wouldn't Mr. Kelley flip if he could see her now! Jan is married with three children. Jennifer Smith, as in the old days, was not far behind Jana. Jen, a math teacher, owns a ski resort where she, her husband and their four children spend the winter weekends on the slopes. I wonder if Jen spends her days calculating the odds of one of her kids, who are all expert skiers, tumbling down the mountain. Did you know that Jayne Moreau is an elementary teacher in France? C'est vrai! Jayne has set out to travel the untraveled path. I have found that Lisa Delatore is now basking in the California sun with her husband. What a life! Erin Smith is a hygienist in New York where keeps cavity-free mouths in all her children. Linda Roe has passed the CPA test and enjoys her success at home in NYC. Debra Clark is a nurse at a nearby hospital, where all her male patients delay their recoveries in order to see her pretty smile a little longer. Debbie Aftosmes is a specialist in early childhood education, and after having two children of her own, she should be! We all gathered around Michelle Laramee as she told us about her most recent space flight. Michelle looked great, even without her space suit. Lora Zommer stunned the crowd. Lora was always a ham, and she has proved to be a talented performer while holding a degree in engineering. Lora left her NYC penthouse on a break from performing "Mama Rose" in Gypsy to be with us here today, dancing up a storm. And here comes Gerry Lynch, who is still "available" and quite rich. His rock star status has girls following him all over the earth, which is the only address he could give me because he can't narrow it down to one place! Gerry tells me that Sam Turnage just zoomed back from the Indy 500. Sam is married with two children and is happy working as a drag racing automotive expert. I overheard Brad Dowdall boasting of his booming architectural firm in Dallas, Texas. Brad has already set up enormous trust funds for his children and has acquired a southern accent — "Hahvard Yahd" is gone from his vocabulary forever. Kim MacDonald was chatting about her job as a merchandising buyer for Neiman-Marcus, where she bought the stunning outfit she wore to the reunion. Kim also lives in a penthouse with her husband and single child. Jen Scott, now a psychiatrist in Florida is married with two children. I heard Rose- Marie Peck is also living in Florida. She owns a beautiful house because of her success in the real estate business. With Rose-Marie to sell you some good property and Jen to keep you sane, Florida could be almost bearable in the sweltering summer months. Some of the alumni still reside in Norton. Paul Gonsalves owns a computer business and is a self-made millionaire. Sean Green, another rich member of the Class of 1987, is an accountant. Fred Ekstrand also resides in Norton. He is a computer programmer and it is rumored that he got his start working for Paul's business. Norman Kinglsey is an aircraft mechanic for American Airlines, but he may be working for John Treeful's Party-Line soon, so John's planes will be in tip-top shape for every big bash.

The Gossip:

As I've been walking around I inadvertently overheard some conversations among other alumni who still live in or near Norton. From what I hear, I may have a chance to guide second-generation students from these graduates. Danielle Ricci, for example, is a business administrator in Norton, who has several children, as does Kristin Celeste. Kristin is an investments consultant in town. Their services are in great demand in Norton, since it is no longer the dull little town it used to be — now high school kids don't have to leave town to have fun! William Shaul is a painter in Norton who, I hear, is learning to fly. Holli Fitgerald is a nurse in Attleboro, where she lives with her husband. She was talking to Robin Wallace, who is a Harvard Medical student living in Cambridge. They were discussing Robin's ambition to become Chief of Surgery at Mass. General Hospital. I must remember to avoid having surgery there in the future — just a joke! Another medical student is Karen Bryant, a promising esthetician, who was talking to Maryann Watson, a registered nurse in Seekonk, about Karen's skin care center. I overheard Theresa Grieve discussing her work in the computer field with Beth McLeod, an accountant studying to become a CPA, and Jim Souza, an accountant on Hilton Head Island in South Carolina. Theresa was trying to sell a computer system which would make accounting more simple. The two accountants, however, were understandably reluctant to accept a machine which might eventually replace them in their jobs. Then there's Edward Gonsalves from whom no one has heard since his wedding shortly after graduation. He is probably the wisest of the graduates for avoiding this reunion. I overheard Lisa Poole, a top journalist for a Mississippi newspaper, talking to Cindy King, a computer science expert that has become an executive in New York, about Cindy's latest trip abroad. Cindy, being the Jet-setter that she is, recently ran into Gail Murray at a ticket agency in Florida where Gail works. She told Cindy about their many friends who are working with children. Leah Socorro, for example, is a nursery school teacher. Somehow, I just can't picture sophisticated Leah playing ring-around-the-rosie. I guess anything's possible! Christa Briggs is a pre-school teacher living with her husband in Yarmouth. David Barac also works with children, as well as keeping his own tribe of kids in line at their home in the Tropics. Kim Robbins is the Nautilus queen of Hawaii at her health club, where she remains a swinging single, hula-ing the nights away at all those luaus. I overheard Candy Mann talking about her hotel on the Cape to Donna Harding. Donna owns an office in California where she is an optometrist. Now Donna has an entire family with natural tans, blonde hair, straight white teeth and 20-20 vision. Would you believe that Kari Dawson and Gretchen Sayce, who were next door neighbors for years, finally caught up with each other? Kari is a fashion merchandising consultant in Boston where she keeps her family always impeccably dressed. Gretchen and her husband live in Montreal where she is the head of Public Relations in a major Canadian business firm. Who would believe that Kim McIntrye would turn out to be a Boston disc jockey, hired to play at her own class reunion?!

She is living in a loft in Boston and pays her sizeable rent by playing at proms or spinning discs at WBCN in Boston. Dawn Munier brought her daughter Crystal with her tonight. They live together in New England, where Dawn is an efficient nurse and Crystal is a beautiful middle-school student. Jonathan Goldman is a commercial artist in Hawaii who often goes to Kim R.'s health club to photograph the young women working out. He claims that view to be the best one in Hawaii! Sandy May and her family live in Miami where Sandy works as a secretary. Here comes Paul Curtin, a Mass. State Trooper living on Cape Cod who is working toward becoming a black belt in karate. Paul has been in contact with many of his high school friends on the highways since he became an officer . . . unfortunately he was not always welcomed by them. Many students have become accountants, from what I hear. Scott Chancey is a successful accountant in New Hampshire, John Collins and Dawn Weatherby in Florida, and Peter Fernandes and Al Poreda in Arizona. John moonlights as a male model, Peter is a millionaire, and Al plans to retire before he hits forty. I'll bet one of them owns the pink Lamborghini!!

The Farewells:

Oh no, it's time to say good-bye again. I said that once ten years ago and now I have to say it again. So many of the class of '87 have become computer experts, accountants, hotel managers, nurses or doctors, and so many of them are incredibly rich! Who would have ever thought they could make so much money? I certainly didn't, not after the struggles I went through for fund-raisers. Things change, however, so we'll see what has happened by the time the twenty-year reunion rolls around . . . I can't wait!!

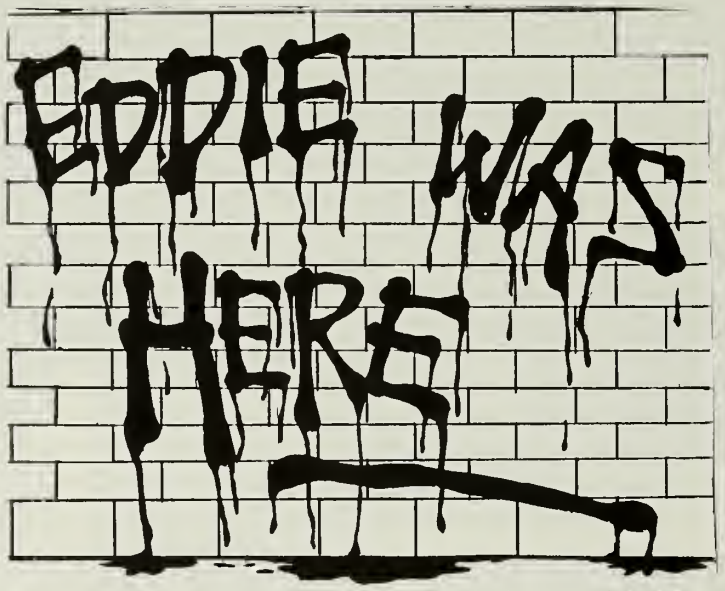
One More Look

Student Life

Eddie Was Here

This fall Norton High School students had a chance to take part in a very special presentation, Eddie Was Here. The students comprised the cast and had no written script to work from, only their feelings about the situations they faced in the play. Community response to the event was encouraging, though overwhelming. People were turned away from the nighttime performance, and performances had to be scheduled for the Middle School students.



The play was about the life and death of Edward LaRiviere, a teenager whose involvement with drugs and alcohol eventually ended his life. His older brother Kevin recreated the events leading to Eddie's involvement with drugs and his early death so that others might learn from his experiences. Kevin gave a short, moving, lecture after the final scene of the play which was just as effective in forcing people to think about the play's message. We thank Mr. LaRiviere for baring his soul to us so that we may be spared the grief he has felt.

Spaghetti Supper

The Annual Spaghetti Supper put on by the senior class proved to be a big success. With the leadership and direction of our class advisors, the students prepared a delicious Italian meal. The contributions of the students and local businesses made it a profitable event. As a matter of fact, they had so many desserts that they were compelled to give them away! All in all, the seniors thoroughly enjoyed themselves — which may be the first time this has ever happened during a fund-raiser.

Homecoming

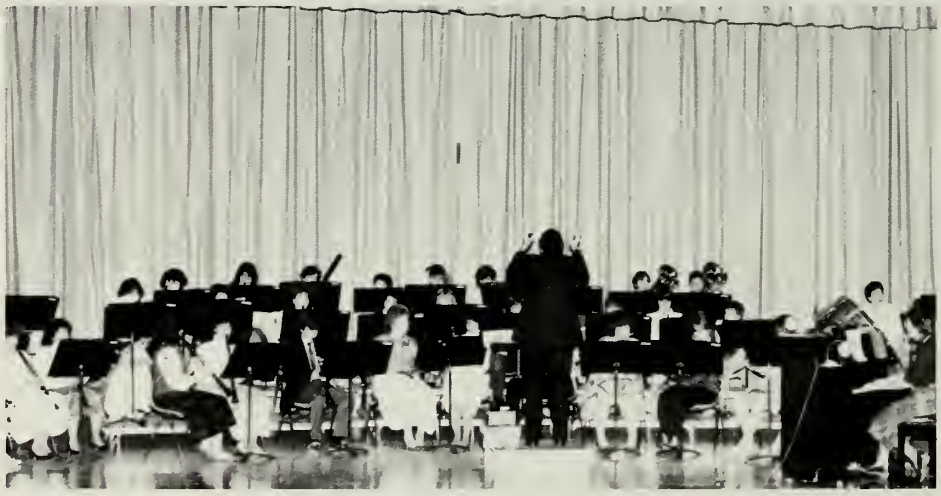
Homecoming this year was played against Blue Hills, whom we beat 8-6. There was a rousing pep rally and dance the night before the big game — sort of a "pre-victory party." During half-time, Peter Smith announced the names of the Homecoming Court as the band played the traditional "grandioso." Mr. Wheeler crowned Kari Dawson as this year's Queen and handed roses to her court, which included seniors Cindy King, Gail Murray, Michelle Hutcheon and Candy Mann; Juniors Sharon Mandosa and Dawn Everson; Sophomores Alison Cotton and Andrea Myers; and Freshmen Michelle Howell and Denise Lombardo.

The Band Banquet, sponsored by the Norton Band Parents, included a buffet dinner and an awards presentation. Seniors were finally awarded their jackets, as well as Mr. MacMullen, who received a new jacket from the band as a token of their gratitude. After the awards were given, there was a dance for students and parents, featuring the music of Starfire.

Band Banquet

Christmas Concert

The annual Christmas Concert, featuring the Norton High School Band and Chorus, was held this year on December 22. The Band entertained the audience with the lilting notes of selections from Tchaikowsky's "Nutcracker Suite" and some French carols in the "Noel Suite." The Chorus trilled through traditional carols and newer holiday songs, raising their voices in angelic harmony. The audience joined in at the end for some old-time favorites, joyful in the knowledge that vacation was just around the corner.



Semi-Formal

The third Annual Semi-Formal, sponsored by the National Honor Society, was again held at Wheaton College. Everyone sparkled in an evening of dinner and dancing. The fun included the election of the 1987 White Rose Princess, lovely Leah Socorro, and her Court of handsome attendants: David Barac, Tim Burrill, John Collins, Gerard Lynch, Al Poreda, and Mike Tierney.

Prom

On May 9, 1986, Norton High School held its Junior-Senior Prom at Johnson and Wales Inn in Seekonk. We will "Always and Forever" remember dancing to Starlite in a spectacular setting of silver and lavender. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the queen, Stacey Cotton. Her senior court included Christin Foster, Elizabeth Breault, Mary Lombardo and Beth Wagner. The junior court consisted of Martha Kennelly, Leah Socorro, Diane Bartley and Kelly Webb.

Aimee Dudley and Derek Bouchard-Hall

MA Government Day

Aimee and Derek were chosen as delegates to act as senator, representative, or other government officer in the State House for a day in April. For that one day, they would be, in effect, running MA government along with many other students from Massachusetts. They attended seminars to prepare them for their one day in office, toured the State House, and received first-hand experience in the workings of our state government.

Jewish War Veteran's Award

Nicole was chosen by her peers and teachers as Norton High School's entrant in the Jewish War Veteran's scholarship contest. Her evident traits of character, scholarship, leadership and citizenship were the primary factors in her receiving the award.

Nicole Maher

Girls' State

Held at Bridgewater State College and sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, Girls' State Week was an eye-opener in all levels of U.S. government, as well as a chance for the girls to form new and lasting friendships. They got their first task of college dorm life while receiving an education in running campaigns, 'parliamentary procedure' and the election process.

Hugh O'Brien Youth Leadership Conference

Mark and Melanie were chosen on the basis of leadership positions in and out of school and their superior essays to attend the Leadership Conference. There they learned about good leadership characteristics and will share that knowledge with the sophomores of next year.

D.A.R. Good Citizen

Karen was elected to represent Norton High School in the Daughters of the American Revolution scholarship competition. She had to display qualities of scholarship, leadership and citizenship to be awarded this honor.

Boys' State

At Bentley College, the Norton delegates to Boys' State Week participated in mock local, state, and federal government offices, planned campaign strategies, played sports, and befriended other Boys' State delegates who had come to share their dorms for that week. The American Legion invited several guest speakers during the week to complete the boys' education in U.S. government.

This society works very hard to prepare a number of fun-filled activities for the school.Some of these include The College Day Fair and the White Rose Semi-Formal. The society also participates in a number of fundraisers such as the bikeathon, the selling of balloons and candy to raise money for two scholarships given to seniors who have shown academic excellence through their four years in high school.

The National Art Honor Society continued to spread their creativity throughout the school with ceiling tiles, bulletin boards and even a few murals. This year they sold hand-painted tote bags to raise money for an art scholarship. The artists went on many field trips with their advisor, Mrs. Gagnon, to the M.F.A., the Gardner Museum, and to N.Y.C. to visit the Metropolitan Museum of Art and other famous N.Y.C. sights. This year the Art Honor Society also experimented with enameling, airbrushing, and critiquing artwork.

This year's math team, guided by Mrs. Joan Vital, lost many key players from last year; however, that didn't affect an outstanding record of victories. This dedicated young group participates in two leagues: Southeastern Math League, which involves traveling to other schools, and the New England League, for which tests are given to students after school. There was great participation in this year's team. Mrs. Vital is proud of both leagues' great achievements and rewarded them with a day trip to New York with the art department. After 2 out of 4 meets the Southeastern League is in second place, and the New England League in first place after 3 out of 6 tests. Weekly practice, dedication and hard work have their reward for this year's math team.

This year's Newspaper Staff, headed by Lisa Poole (editor) and Jean Jerome (asst.), made a number of changes in the school paper with the help of their new advisor, Miss Dziejma. The staff began by changing the paper's name to "What's Up." They also changed the print and the setup giving it a more enjoyable and appealing outlook. They attempted to change the paper to actual newspaper but ran into too many difficulties. These students work very hard every month gathering stories, interviewing and working with word processors and computers. They spend many hours after school making decisions to improve the paper. They enjoy issuing the paper and hope their readers enjoy it too. By purchasing "What's Up" students help support and reward this innovative and dedicated staff. The paper can be purchased from any member or through Miss Dziejma. So keep up on Current Events and buy "What's Up" and know "What's Up!"

Some recent activities coordinated by Kristen Rodrigues (Pres.) and her helpers include a crepe party, the viewing of a French film with English subtitles, and various excursions to Harvard Square to sample the many French stores in Boston. They have planned a field trip to a Spanish restaurant to sample the different Hispanic Foods. Any student enrolled in Spanish may participate.

Football

Through the dedicated and high spirited coaching of Mr. Laroque and his assistants, the Norton Lancers continued to earn respect through a winning 6-2-1 league record Though the Lancer football team lost some 20 members from last year's Superbowl team, it came back looking strong and full of potential. Co-captains Jim Sicard and Joe Marino kept the team determined to outdo themselves every game, showing that last year's championship team was no accident. With only seven members of the team being seniors, Norton is again looking forward to another season filled with victory in 87'.

Cross Country

It wasn't easy for Coach Rukstalis and his team, but Norton High School's Cross Country members stayed strong and showed true Lancer spirit this year. Plagued with injuries, the team found itself faced with uncomfortable disadvantages against the opposition. But the "Never say die" runners struggled and spurred themselves on in every race, showing other teams just what the Lancers are all about. The senior co-captains were Eric Larson and Brian Clark.

The Lancer Golf Team enjoyed another successful season this year Although Norton's string of championships going back to 1979 was broken, the team did manage to finish in second place. Norton's league record was 8 wins, 1 loss, and 1 tie Its overall record was 9 wins, 4 losses, and 1 tie

The root of the team's success was its experience Norton s starting line-up consisted of 5 seniors and 1 junior. Varsity lettermen of the team are: seniors — Barry Walsh, Eric Pane, Mark LaPierre, John Belkner, and Toby Lovering, juniors — Jim Farrell, and Lee Desrosiers.

A team's record does not always reflect the accomplishments of the team or the individual honors that may have been achieved. This was the case with the Lancer Volleyball Team this year. The team had a good season with eight wins and seven losses; but, they have acquired the skill needed to play advanced offensive allignments.

From an individual point of view the team Tri-captains, senior Michelle Laramee and juniors Dayle Mann and Kathy Kmetz, were chosen as League All-stars. These three players were also chosen for the first ever Attleboro Sun Chronicle All-Star Team.

The seniors this year were Tri-captain Michele Laramee, Alicia Simmons and Erin O'Shea and their representation of the class of 1987 was outstanding.

Volleyball, representing the best in women's athletics and in team competition, is doing its part in the Norton High School Interscholastic Athletic Program.

Under the coaching of alumna Elizabeth Shaw, the 1986 field hockey team competed with vigor. While Leah Soccorro and Martha Kennelly led the team's offense, Regina Courchine and the Mayflower League's finest goalie, Kristen McMorrow, were the mainstays of the defense. Seniors Candice Mann, Nicole Maher, Donna Harding, Michelle Hutcheon, and Michelle Lavoie contributed to the fine effort of the team. Players elected to the Mayflower League All-Star team were senior Nicole Maher and sophomore Kristen McMorrow. Coach Shaw looks forward to the 1987 season with many returning lettermen.

Under the new leadership of Coach Maureen Brennan, the Norton High School Cheerleaders have motivated the crowds to be extremely supportive of our athletic teams These dedicated girls have won numerous awards, including a first place award at summer cheering camp and a chance to compete in the United States Cheerleading Association National Competition in Michigan for their pom-pon routine to a medley of Beach Boys songs. In addition to raising spirit at games, the cheerleaders also perform at pep rallies and league competitions, always with the precision and enthusiasm for which they are known.

Boys' Basketball

row 1 (l to r) J. Sicard, T. Burrill, Capt. E. Pane, D. Bouchardhall, D. Barac. row 2. J. Dunlap, J. Sweeney, D. Rusky, S. Kinney, S. Dunlap, P. Smith.

The Norton Lancer Basketball Team, led this year by Captain Eric Pane and Coach Howard Kelley, quickly shot to the top of the Mayflower League and stayed there to win the Championship. They went on to compete in the League Playoffs and the State Division III Championship games. This pileup of incredible Lancer victories was primarily due to the good mixture of seasoned players and new talent on the team. Several of the players, including Jon Dunlap and Steven Kinney rounded out the list of successes by making All-Stars. We hope our basketball team will continue the excellence of this season for many years to come.

Girls' Basketball

The Lancer Girls' Basketball team got off to a slow start as inexperience resulted in four losses in the first five games. As experience was gained and confidence built, the girls recovered to finish the season with a 7-10 record. Coached by Mr. Nuttall, led by Captains Cara Jordan and Donna Hading, and inspired by senior members Pam Hansen and Karen Waite, the young team of '86-'87 can look forward to some good seasons coming up. Captain Cara Jordan was selected to the League All Star Team, a fitting climax to her years of dedication to Lancer basketball.

The Norton Lancers Girls' Track Team in 86' joined in celebration with other championship teams for the first time in the history of Girl's Track at our school The Lancers 4x110 relay team consisting of. juniors Erin O'Shea and Tammie Girelli; sophomore Dayle Mann, and freshman Stacy Morris qualified for the States. The Lancer girls made an outstanding effort and brought home a new school record; which we all can be proud of. With only Co-captain Jill Kresley being a senior on the team, the Lancers proved tremendous ability and great hopes for the future. Other captains were Erin O'Shea, and Karen Waite. The team and Coach Holster are looking forward to more championship seasons.

Boys' Track

first row: S. Dunlap, W. Ambrose, M. Zwicker, D. Shaw, G. Watson, G. Crum, S. O'Shea, C. Esperian, M. Pinocci, T. Lovering, J. Stolpner. second row: Assistant Coach J. Maher, B. Donahue, J. For the second year in a row, the Norton Lancer Track Team went undefeated leading to an unquestioned championship. The team proved their strength in every event, dominating the opposition throughout the season. The team consisted of several underclassmen competing in a wide range of events, and so the seniors will be replaced though they will be missed. The co-captains were Greg Crum and Greg Watson. Success should continue in track in 87' with the dedicated coaching of Mr. Rukstalis.

Boys' Tennis

first row (l to r) E. Pratt, D. Barac, M. LaPierre, P. Macken, J. Goldman row 2: B. Walsh, L. Desrosiers, J. Murphy, D Butler, J. Farrell, J. Zaccardi, A. Correia, M. Dunn, K. Lewis

The boys' tennis team had a school record breaking season. Thirteen victories shattered the previous record of eleven (1985). They led the Mayflower League until the last day of the 1986 season when they suffered their second straight loss to Diman Voke. Norton had a 7-2 record in the league and was 13-6 overall. The team had victories over non-league opponents Franklin, Bourne and Apponequet.

The Lancers qualified for the State Tournament for the second year in a row but went down to defeat at the hands of Stoughton.

The team's strength was doubles. Three of the regular doubles players were named to Mayflower All-Stars: Robert Bouchard-Hall, Carmin Iadonisi, and Tom Fitzgerald. Kyle Texeira was chosen in singles.

The 1987 season should be the one that brings to maturity the talents of Jon Goldman (at 1st singles), Mark LaPierre (at 2nd singles), Paul Macken and Dave Barac (at 1st doubles.) Macken hopes to regain the form that gained him recognition in the 1985 Mayflower All-Stars. Underclassmen Jim Farrell, Derek Butler and Kevin Lewis will make a substantial contribution to the success of future Lancer Tennis teams.

Girls' Tennis

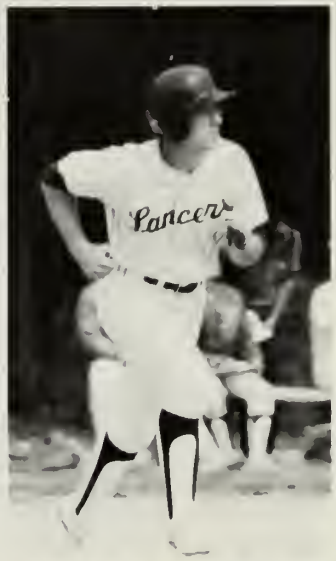
first row (l to r) J. Lee, L. Shaw, N. Maher, P. Mansfield, K. Rodrigues, C. Limber, D. DeCosta, D. Green, M. Casagni, J. Barac, K. Robbins. row 2: M. Cookson, R. Bassett, R. Bileau, R. Brower, C. Mansfield, K. Lavioe, S. Macken, K. Kollett, O. Kinder, E. Yorke, R. Yorke, L. Mimms, Coach Mrs. Robbins.

The 1986 season proved to be a spectacular one for the Girls' Tennis Team. They were Mayflower League Champions and, for the first time in Norton's history, competed in the Massachusetts State Tournament. They closed their season with a fantastic record of eleven wins and three losses. Marlene Cookson, Kim Robbins, Nicole Maher and Kristen Holmes were elected to the Mayflower League All-Star team. The Attleboro Sun-Chronicle awarded All-Star honorable mention to Kim Robbins and Priscilla Mansfield. Kristen Rodrigues, Alison Rubin, Roberta Bassett, and Cara Jordan also played hard for the team. Marlene Cookson was elected the most valuable player, Nicole Maher the most improved player.

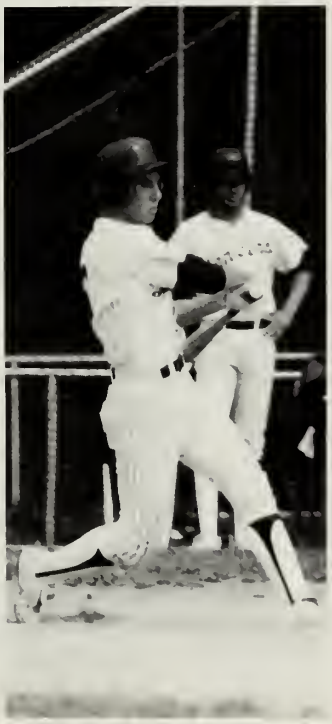
Since the team lost only two seniors, the 1987 season looks promising with most of the team returning including Christina Mansfield, Lora Shaw, and Eileen York.

Baseball

row 1 (l to r) M. Smith, C. Gaddy, Capt. M. Jolly, Capt. S. Peck, J. Finch, J. Marino, M. Tierney. row 2: Coach D. Mollica, D. Elliott, D. Perry, D. Lacivita, E. Pane, L, Iadonisi



Lancer Baseball strikes again!! Norton captured the Mayflower League Title, the League playoff and the Southeastern Mass. Championship before being defeated 2-1 in the Semifinals of the State Championship. They finished the year with an impressive 21-2 record under the coaching of Dave Mollica and the leadership of Captains Steve Peck and John Finch. Larry Iadonisi had a tremendous year pitching for the Lancers and was elected MVP in Southeastern Mass, adding yet another honor to Norton Baseball's long list of awards. Coach Mollica has a strong team returning this year and is looking forward to what will hopefully be another successful season.



Softball

row 1 (l to r) Mr. Cronin (asst.), D. Esperian, Capt. D. Lapierre, Capt. S. Cotton, M. Laramee, Coach Chambers. row 2: L. Ledoux, K. Calhoun, K. Kmetz, K. Lombard, K. Coolidge, M. Hayes. row 3: L. Fiorentino, S. Weida, L. Cronin, M. Lombardo, K. Wallace, T. Greene.

The Girl's Softball Team under leadership of Coach Cathy Chambers and special help from Mike Cronin, had a competitive season. The team displayed their enjoyment for softball through their dedicated efforts and great skill. Losing a few key players this coming season may put the team at a slight disadvantage, however, Coach Chambers sees a good future for the underclassmen athletes.
